Calder Plaza

La Grande Vitesse Sculpture- Calder Plaza

A public sculpture by American artist Alexander Calder is located on the large concrete plaza surrounding City Hall. Popularly referred to as simply "the Calder", since its installation in 1969 it has come to be a symbol of Grand Rapids and an abstraction of it is included in the city's official logo.

Motu Viget Sculpture

Near Calder Plaza

Commonly known as the Tire Swing, the sculpture is titled after the city's motto, a Latin phrase that means "strength in activity." It was installed in 1977. Created by sculptor Mark di Suvero
